STUDENT COUNCIL TO BE REPRESENTED ON SENATE DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE

Petition of Men's Government Board Passed Without Delay

COMPLIMENT TO COUNCIL

Women's Association to Present Similar Petition Soon

The Men's Student Council of the University will have representatives on both the University Senate and the Discipline Committee, the membership of which has been confined to faculty members exclusively in the past, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Senate held Monday afternoon. The petition of the Council for such representation was presented to the University Council which reported favorably to the Senate by whom it was passed without delay.

This action on the part of the senate is a decided compliment to the Student Council and shows that the senate is keenly aware of the close spirit of cooperation between students and faculty, largely brought about by the efforts of the Student Council. Marshall Barnes, president of the Council, said that members would be selected from that body at their next meeting to fill the newly created position.

It is understood that the Woman's Student Government Association will present a similar petition at an early meeting of the senate. Members of the Senate were confident that this request would be granted by their organization. This will serve in a very great measure to link the student body and faculty closer together.

Among the other important rules passed by the Senate at their Monday meeting was the decision that all dances must be held on Saturday nights or on the night preceding a holiday. The social committee of the Student Council was asked to arrange their program to conform to this ruling. The reason given for this ruling was that so many fraternities had asked for dance dates on Friday nights

SERVICES IN HONOR OF A. LINCOLN HELD IN CHAPEL

Dr. McVey Presides at Meeting—Mrs. Taylor Presents Plaque to University

Exercises in honor of Lincoln's birthday were held Tuesday morning at the fifth hour in chapel with President McVey presiding.

Following the opening exercises and devotional, led by Dr. McVey, Mrs. Taylor, of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, presented to the University in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday a plaque bearing an inscription of "The Law" which quotation from one of Lincoln's speeches has come down through the years as one of his most famous sayings. Mrs. Taylor presented to the library of the University a book of lectures by Colonel George W. Bain.

President McVey accepted the gift with appreciation and in his talk to the students compared the life of Lincoln with that of our late "war president" Wilson, emphasizing the fact that though there was a vast difference between the minds of the two men, both lived, acted and governed on the basic principle, according to a high standard of ideals.

CONVERSATION COURSE HAD FIRST MEETING ON TUESDAY

The first meeting of the new class called a "Conference on Life Interests" offered by the English Department in the College of Arts and Sciences was held in the Little Theatre Tuesday at the fifth hour.

The professors who are to lead the discussion were introduced by Prof. L. L. Dantzer. Dean Boyd told of the origin of the course and its object, which is to teach the students the art of serious and intelligent conversation as well as acquaint them with real rather than superficial knowledge of modern "life interests." He urged that the course be made a success by the active study and co-operation of each student. The 100 members of the class will be divided into ten sections, each of which is to meet weekly and discuss among themselves one of the selected problems.

Much interest is being taken in the novel course, which so far as is known, is the first project of its kind ever carried out. Should it reach the success its promoters predict for it, it will be a decided innovation in educational methods in this country.

BOWLERS!

The University Bowling team will practice on the Phoenix alleys Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Anyone who wishes to try out for the team is requested to report at that time.

CATS WALLOP CENTRE 27-18 AND ADVANCE A NOTCH IN STATE RACE

Kentucky Five Draws Away From Colonels in Second Period

SCORE IS 13-13 AT HALF

McFarland and King Are Best For Blue and White Quintet

A spirited comeback by Kentucky's Wildcat quintet after Centre had held them to a 13-13 tie for twenty minutes, enabled the Blue and White five to decisively defeat the Colonels 27-18 at Danville Saturday night. The Cats were somewhat slow in getting started but once going, quickly demonstrated their superiority over the Danville aggregation and drew away to win by a safe margin.

The two quintets fought on about even terms throughout the first half with neither outfit showing much form. In the second period the Cats combining an impenetrable defense with a forceful attack swept the Colonels off their feet and slowly but surely went into a safe lead.

Jimmie McFarland and Bill King were the big noises for the Blue and White. McFarland, high point man of the game, was the keystone of the Cat passing and cut in with several brilliant mid-distance shots that started the Cats toward their victory. His guarding of Herb Covington, Centre flash, was so airtight that the Mayfield youth who had scored 18 points in the Centre-West Virginia game, was able to put the ball through the iron hoops but once from the field throughout the entire game. Besides putting up a wonderful defensive game, King cut in with three pretty field goals.

Dooley and Green, forward and guard, respectively, were best for Centre, both on offense and defense. Thomason at center played well but was able to count but 1 field goal owing to the guarding of Captain "Chuck" Rice of the Cats. Kubale, back guard, was put out of the game on personal fouls before the first period was two-thirds gone.

CAT BASEBALL TEAM TO HAVE BUT 4 VETERANS

Former Kittens Expected to Play Large Part in 1924 Season

The baseball season, which is rapidly approaching will find the University of Kentucky with few letter men but much high grade material gained from the 1923 Freshman nine. Captain Rouse, Miller, Gregg and Stokes are the only letter men who remain, the rest having been lost through graduation.

The varsity team will be composed largely of last year's freshmen. Reed Miller, who last year cavorted in center field will probably be found at first base when the season opens as "Daddy" Glenn, the freshman first sacker did not return to school this year. This leaves the entire outfield open for the ex-freshman material of which there is a large quantity. Vossmeier, Hughes and McFarland in addition to their pitching played in the outfield. All there are steady hitters and sure fielders.

Lyle Croft will probably fill the vacancy at third base which was left by the graduation of Arnold. Captain Rouse will possibly be shifted from short to second, leaving that place open for either Adams, captain of the 1923 Frosh, or Bill King who formerly held that position. "Chuck" Alberts will give Rouse plenty of competition for the keystone sack.

The catching staff has two aspirants of merit in Derrick and Sauer. Both of these men caught for the Kittens last year and Sauer also played in the outfield, part of the time. The Wildcat pitching staff should be stronger this year than it has been for quite a while. Two regulars, Gregg and Stokes, will return. Then there are several men who were on the squad last year but did not break into the lineup enough to earn a letter. From the freshman team, the varsity gains Riffe, Samuels, Vossmeier, Hughes and McFarland, who should add great strength to the staff.

Cy Barger will again coach the Cats as Fred Murphy, the new resident coach, does not take over the baseball duties until the end of this season.

PROF. ROBERTS HONORED

Professor George Roberts, head of the Department of Agronomy of the University, has been selected to head the local chapter of the American Association for the coming year. The other officers elected include Dr. J. B. Miner, vice-president; Prof. S. E. Leland, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, member at large of the executive committee.

WEATHERMAN SLACKENS CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BASKETBALL BUILDING

Net Tossers' New Home Promised for High School Tournament

TO BE FINEST IN SOUTH

Three Courts and a Seating Capacity of 3,400 Provided

The weatherman, Kentucky's trickster, has been responsible for the delay in the building of Kentucky's new basketball building and thus for the unfinished condition of it. Indirectly, the same factor has been responsible for the congestion, pushing and begging for seats at all of the Wildcats' home games this season. However, we are promised a completed building for the high school tournament to be held here March 13, 14 and 15.

George B. Carey, chairman of the building committee, said in an interview: "I think you can state with a good deal of certainty that the building will be ready for the high school tournament."

When the contract was let the building was promised for January 15. However, brick cannot be laid when the temperature is below freezing and much time has been lost in this phase of the work. Last week the brick contractors were able to work only two hours, it seems that this week will be a repetition of last. Mr. Shea, the brick contractor, says that he can finish laying the brick in twelve days. The Blanchard Construction Com-

TO HOLD MILITARY BALL 21ST AT PHOENIX HOTEL

New Attractions Will Add to the Success of Annual Dance

The annual Military Ball will be held at the Phoenix Hotel February 21, from 9 until 2 o'clock. The committee in announcing the date of the ball asserted that several new attractions have been incorporated for the first time adding to the uniqueness of the affair. A buffet lunch will be served from 11 until 1 in the Palm room, during which time the dance will continue with the omission of no-breaks.

The Seaboard and Blade, national Military fraternity, will hold its pledging services shortly after the Grand March, at which time several of the commissioned officers will be pledged.

Heretofore any type of uniform was permitted at the ball, but it has been decided this year to limit the uniform to the regulation uniform provided by the school. All advanced men are requested to wear their uniforms, but the basic men may wear either the uniform or a tuxedo. Tickets may be procured from any member of the committee or from Captain Beturum at any time before the dance.

The committee has spared no effort to make the ball the best in the history of the department, and with the co-operation of the students, this end will be easily accomplished.

HOW NORTH CAROLINA CAME BACK

A few years ago people thought of North Carolina as a mountainous Southern state which had lost all during the War between the States without being able to regain its stride with the rest of the South after the days of reconstruction were over and the New South arose from the ashes of its former glory.

How wrong such an opinion would be now, although it would have been correct fifteen or twenty years ago, is shown by the address of Governor Cameron Morrison, of North Carolina, at the sixty-eighth Burns day celebration of the Caledonian Club at the Hotel Astor in New York City.

Governor Morrison described the comeback of ante-bellum glory and economic prosperity staged by North Carolina, "The home of more Scots than there are anywhere in the world except Scotland."

"I come not from a poor state, but from one that is rich and proud; that pays as much taxes to the federal government this year as all the rest of the South, and more than half a dozen Western States; that has more cotton mills than Massachusetts and is building new ones; where the agricultural products are exceeded in value by those of only four states in the Union—I have included Texas as a state, though in reality it is a republic that we conveniently annexed."

In his address the governor of the progressive Southern state attributed the development of the state's resources to the men and women of Scottish birth or descent who retained the lessons of the motherland as a guide in the business and state affairs and the poetry of Robert Burns as a guide to the heart.

We accept his explanation but at the same time recall that North Carolina entered upon a great program of road building and school improvement a few years ago. Did the roads and schools bring the economic development or did the economic development bring the roads and schools? We would answer, neither! They go hand in hand; the one always helps the other, the lack of either retards the other.

Kentucky is not inferior to North Carolina in natural resources and quite a few of its citizens are close kin to Governor Morrison's Scots in that state. Kentucky has long been known for its beautiful Blue Grass, agricultural and stock raising section, which must be far superior to the Piedmont hills of North Carolina. The Cumberland mountains and the western counties of the state hold as much coal and a supply of timber that compares favorably with that of North Carolina, not to mention its iron mills and oil fields.

There is in Kentucky enough natural road materials, including asphalt beds and cement deposits to build a system of roads equal to that of any state in the union and possession of such roads would assist development economically until the old Blue Grass state could stand up and boast with any of them about what it has done, is doing and will do.

THE EXPONENTIAL ALUMNI

"Nothing walks or exists which must not in turn arise and walk before him as exponent of his meaning." —Emerson.

As in mathematics the enlargement and breadth of a term is due to the exponent, so the University is made more useful and dominant through the exponential alumni.

"A University is Marc Hopkins on one end of a log and a student on the other." The University of Marc Hopkins (a) becomes through the influence of the alumni possibly (a3) and perhaps finally (an).

The University of Kentucky is justly proud of the achievements of the alumni in their own personal interests and successes in life. We are deeply appreciative of their fidelity and their eternal vigilance for the upholding of the University. Every alumnus possesses the power, through the course of his life, to exert an influence for the good of his Alma Mater far beyond his widest dreams and the alumni, as a body, have it within their province to put the stamp of effectiveness and genuineness of the University of Kentucky where "all who run may read."

The University becomes a power for usefulness solely through the influence of the alumni. The student body from year to year are in fact the potential alumni.

The status of every institution of learning in the world of affairs is determined solely by its alumni.

The University of Kentucky is now fifty-eight years old. Throughout the breadth of this land there are to be found graduates who are exponents of the soundness of training received at the university of this commonwealth. In our judgment there does not exist an alumni organization of any other university that possesses a larger percentage of enthusiastic and devoted membership than does our own. We are not yet old enough to have raised many millionaires but the spirit of devotion and loyalty is there and some day we will find our successful graduates endowing professorships, putting up memorial laboratories and buildings devoted to special branches of art and science.

At the present time we are grateful for the much more important element in the University's permanency—the enthusiastic moral support, the confidence and affection for the University of Kentucky on the part of the alumni.

—F. Paul Anderson.

MEMBERS ADDRESSED

H. H. Grooms, Student Speaker, Appears Before Somerset Alumni

A group of about a dozen Pulaski alumni were addressed February 1, at Somerset by H. H. Grooms, a member of the Student Speakers' Bureau. The meeting was held in the office of Dr. Carl Norfleet, a former student of the University of Kentucky. Grooms talked to the alumni about the progress at the University, ending with the proposed bond issue and the value it would have for the University and rural education. The Somerset and Pulaski alumni were heartily in favor of the proposed bond issue for the University, although there is some disagreement in the county as to voting in favor of the entire amount of the bond issue.

Plans for improving the work and increasing the membership of the Pulaski Club were discussed by the members after the talk by Grooms. The officers of the Pulaski county club are: V. D. Roberts, '05, Stearns, president; M. A. Dodson, '04, Science Hill, vice-president; Viola Cragg, '13, Somerset.

OLD PROFESSOR CONTRIBUTES

Man, 83 Years Old, Sends $5 in Gold For Patterson Memorial

The Greater Kentucky Campaign fund was the recipient of a contribution from a very unexpected source several weeks ago when a five dollar gold piece was received by Dr. McVey from W. H. Bartholomew, of Louisville, a school teacher now more than 83 years old and not a former student of the University.

Mr. Bartholomew wrote a letter to Dr. McVey and requested that his contribution go toward the erection of a memorial for President Patterson. In his letter Mr. Bartholomew wrote, "Dr. James K. Patterson, the illustrious president of the University of Kentucky was for many years a beloved and esteemed friend of mine whose memory I desire to assist in perpetuating by subscribing according to my financial ability to the proposed memorial in his honor."

A gift from such a source is received very gratefully by the University, and the Alumni Association will take this opportunity to thank Mr. Bartholomew in addition to the personal letter of thanks he received from Dr. McVey when the letter was received. There are many alumni who remember President Patterson with a great deal of love and to know that there are men near his age out through the state who also wish to see a memorial in his honor is very gratifying.

Betwixt Us

News has reached the office of the death, January 23, 1924, of Dr. Leslie L. Robertson ex-. The University has lost a loyal and interested friend. How his community regarded him is expressed in lines quoted from the Middlesboro papers: "Middlesboro is in mourning today for the death of a friend—a personal friend of every man, woman and child whom he knew. * * * Dr. Robertson was always, first and foremost, a physician in the truest sense. He never reached the place where a patient was, in any degree, merely a case." Dr. Robertson had been practicing medicine in Middlesboro for thirty-three years. He had also been instrumental in the development of the city and at the time of his death, was president of the National Bank of Middlesboro. Copies of resolutions passed by the Board of Directors of the Bank, of the Kiwanis Club, of which he was a member, and of the men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church were printed in the Middlesboro papers. THE UNIVERSITY AND THE BOND ISSUE

The Kernel has on several occasions given voice to editorial comment concerning the proposed bond issue that is now before the legislative bodies of the state. The field of comment is just about exhausted. Still there is one theory that the writer holds so far as the University and her welfare are concerned.

At present all indications point to a favorable vote on the $75,000,000 bond issue bill. There will be no opposition from the Governor. The real test of this measure will come when it is put before the voters of the state. Here we are afraid the proposition will meet with its greatest obstacle. The present fight against the bill indicates that there will be a still greater one made against the issue when it comes up for ratification by the voters. There are several phases of the proposed issue that can be easily condemned and these will serve its opponents as weapons to be used against the whole issue.

There are those in the state who are not so much interested in a widespread prison reform; there are still others who are not greatly interested in the construction of roads other than in their own localities. These men will fight the whole plan just because there are one or two clauses in it that they do not approve. The majority, however, will not oppose the educational clause, in fact they will be enthusiastically in favor of it; still it will have to suffer with those that are undesirable to some.

There is, in the opinion of the writer, one solution of this problem: There should be separate bond issues made for each of its proposed beneficiaries and these should be presented to the voters in such a manner that they can select those that they favor and vote against those that they oppose. This would make the University almost assured of her share. In fact the Kernel believes that she would come first when the ballots were cast.

This seemingly selfish attitude comes not from a selfish idea or purpose but from a deep and sincere desire to see the University of Kentucky realize all that is due to her by right. It is a plea for better education in the state. It is from a desire to see Kentucky take her rightful place in the educational ranks of the states. What will it profit us if we make prisons more desirable places in which to live and leave the chief educational institution of the state in dire need of funds on which to operate? It is for these reasons that we advocate this plan.

Taking the bond issue as a whole, though we can see no reason against the passing of the whole issue, it is far better to have a state in debt than to have it steeped in ignorance and illiteracy and knee deep in mud.

OUR TEAM

With eight out of ten games won and the State championship practically in our hands, the 1924 basketball season of the University bids fair to be in a measure a repetition of the year of 1921 when the wearers of the Blue and White emerged from the season the undisputed champions of the south.

Only two defeats are on our list and both of these are from the strongest of Tennessee who has not lost one team in the south. The University out of 20 games; and Mississippi A. and M., who was winner of last year's southern tournament. To our credit are victories over our ancient rivals, the Centre Colonels, Georgetown, the strong and hitherto undefeated Mountaineers from West Virginia, Chattanooga, runner up in the southern tournament of last year went down before the attack of the Wildcat five. With these wins over teams of such calibre, the remainder of the season has taken on a very rosy outlook to the followers of the court squad.

At the time this was written two games in succession faces our team; two games that promise to be as hard if not harder than any of the rest, but the outcome of these will not materially increase or decrease our chances for the southern championship.

The return of a member of the championship team of '21 who was all-Southern forward, has added greatly to the defense, for although formerly a forward, he is now holding down a defense position with this year's captain. This addition to the already championship material on the squad has produced a combination that we feel safe in saying will be again the unquestioned champions of the south.

HERBERT GRAHAM'S "SCOTTISH AMERICAN"

The Kernel desires to acknowledge its first copy of the "Scottish American," edited by Herbert Graham, a graduate of the University of Kentucky and a former instructor in the Journalism department. Mr. Graham recently resigned his position as Alumni Secretary to become editor of the only Scottish paper in America. The "Scottish American" is a new publication of 60 columns, printed in New York City. In its treatment of the interests of the Scottish American people it is redolent with the fragrance of Bonnie Doon and Afton Waters.

The present issue features the life and merits of Robert Burns, Scottish poet of universal appeal, whom his countrymen honored at various celebrations on Burns Day, January 25. In addition considerable space is assigned to political and industrial developments in the British Isles. "News Frae Hame," a section devoted exclusively to newsy briefs concerning friends in the old country strikes perhaps the dominant note of the paper.

The editorial column, in addition to comments on Burns' sympathetic alliance with the New American republic, concerns itself with the general bearing of Governor Fields' message to the Kentucky legislature. Concerning the proposed survey of Kentucky's resources the articles says in part:

"The significance of such a move extends far beyond the borders of Kentucky. Its citizens have played a major role in the exploration and development of territories to the northwest and southwest that have far outstripped itself. In more recent times its progeny have become captains of industry, leading lawyers and bankers, educators, publicists, preachers and statesmen in fully a third of the states of the Union. Is now the mother of all these to come forward, herself, as the leader in a troubled era, when statesmen of the world are wondering whether the ultimate direction of universal affairs will come from the west or the extreme east?"

pany, who is doing all of the work except the laying of the brick and the installation of the lighting system, has made the statement that it can finish its work in 20 days.

The first delay in the building came when the brick work was not finished on time. When the brick contract was let Mr. Shea indicated that he would have the brick laid by December 10. Due to the inclement weather and the scarcity of bricklayers this work was delayed until January 15. The steel girders that should have been up by Christmas are not up yet, due to this delay.

Mr. Crocker, the Blanchard representative, said that the steel girders would be up by last Saturday. But the weather again interfered and many girders are still lying on the ground. Now we are promised that the girders will be up by Saturday.

The building will not be thoroughly finished for the tournament but it will be in shape to play in. The finishing touches will not be on it; neither will the heating plant be installed but temporary heating will be provided for the high school games. The lights will be ready by the time the building is finished. The Allen Electric Company has charge of this work.

The new building, when completed, will be the finest of its kind in the south and one of the best in the country. The basement story is built of concrete and the main floor of brick. The cost of the building when completed will be between $90,000 and $100,000. It will be heated by steam.

The dimensions of the building will be 102 by 186 feet. The basement will have a ten foot ceiling and will extend under the entire building. In the basement there will be locker rooms, showers, toilet facilities, safety vault, store rooms and the boiler room. There will also be four offices for the coaching staff in the basement.

The main floor will have permanent seats at either end which will accommodate 1,700 persons. Removable seats accommodating 1,700 persons will be placed ahead of these. There will be four rows of boxes. This leaves a playing floor 50x90 feet with ample out-of-bounds at the ends and sides. This size is the maximum allowed by basketball rules and regulations. The height from the floor to the bottom of the trusses is 26 feet. Under the permanent seats there will be dressing rooms for the home and visiting teams and offices for the athletic association. Also a woman's rest room, men's room and a trophy room. When the temporary seats are removed there will be a clear floor space of 100 by 126 feet. With chairs placed on this floor approximately 4,000 persons could be seated for convention or convocation purposes. The floor is large enough to take care of all University parties for a long time to come.

With the temporary seats removed three basketball courts will be accessible at the same time and play can be carried on in all three simultaneously.

With this building finished Kentucky should be able to seat comfortably all the crowds that wish to attend her games.

Riefkin and Hughes, with Underwood, divided the job as McFarland's running mate among them while Helm and Milward alternated at center. King and Rice played throughout the encounter and each athlete put up an airtight defense that permitted the Colonels but six field goals out of not many more attempts.

The Colleges

College of Education

The enrollment in the College of Education for the second semester of the scholastic year 1923-24 has increased 49 per cent over the enrollment for the preceding semester. This is a wholesome growth in the program for the professional education of teachers. One of the factors that contributed most to Kentucky's low position in the educational world has been the inadequate preparation of her teachers. The University, thru the College of Education, will be able to give to the public schools of Kentucky a group of teachers properly trained for the work to be done.

Chemistry Notes

The first issue of the Journal of Chemical Education, a journal devoted to the interests of teachers on chemistry, was published January 25, 1924 by the American Chemical Association. Thirty contributors from various laboratories in the United States have aided in the success of this project. This magazine gives the teachers plans to follow in instruction. Professor R. N. Maxson of the University faculty is one of the contributors to his journal and has been one of the leading promoters.

WILDCAT RIFLEMEN LEAD BLUE GRASS ASSOCIATION

Kentucky Rifle Team is Going at Top Speed

The University of Kentucky Rifle team has been traveling at a fast clip this year and bids fair to exceed the enviable records of all previous teams. The number of matches that have been fired, although few, have netted victories for the Cats.

Through the efforts of Captain Torrence and a few members of the team a rifle association has been formed, known as the Blue Grass Rifle Association. Colonel Freeman has been elected president and Captain Torrence secretary of the new organization. Some of the best shots in this vicinity have formed clubs and are firing weekly matches in the University armory. Among the teams are the Rotary Club, Knights of Columbus, Versailles, American Legion, 314th Cavalry, 399th Infantry. Business men of Lexington are taking an active part in the Association.

The last reports issued showed that the University team was leading the league. In a recent match the Cat outfit scored 995 points out of a possible 1,000 in the prone position, and 816 out of a possible 1,000 in the sitting position. The next match will be held during the week ending February 23 with the Cats meeting the University of Minnesota riflemen.

CAT COURT MACHINE CRUSHES CLEMSON GIVE

Entire Squad Gets Into Game—Cats Win Easily 38-13

Kentucky's Wildcat quintet easily defeated Clemson College 38-13 in the local gym Wednesday night in a contest that was featureless except for the brilliant floor play of the Cats in the first half and the airtight defense of the Blue and White throughout the game. Kentucky jumped into the lead immediately after the game started and soon had a comfortable margin piled up. The count at the end of the half was Kentucky 26-Clemson 8.

As has been the case in the majority of the games, there was no real Wildcat star. The entire team worked together in perfect harmony in the first half, and passed through the Clemson five man defense with ease. Milward and McFarland, with 10 points each to their credit, led in scoring. Riefkin, cut in with several pretty shots and King and Rice put up so tight a defense that the Clemson forwards were able to score but two field goals throughout the entire play. Alberts and Hendricks performed well for the scrubs, who played a large part of the second half.

For Clemson Chandler was by far the best. Chandler was the only member of the visitor's outfit who could penetrate the Cat defense far enough to score from the field.

The Cats, working in perfect harmony, started off with a rush and soon were leading by a safe margin. But few baskets were missed and few passes dropped in the first period. In the second half, the first string men did not go so well and Buchheit sent his scrubs into the game before the last period was under way.

The lineup and summary:

FIRST BOWLING TEAM IS FORMED AT UNIVERSITY

Golf Enthusiasts Plan Team To Compete in Atlanta Meet

Arthur Morris, a product of the Lexington alleys, was elected captain of the first bowling team that the University of Kentucky has ever had, at a meeting of the bowling aspirants of the University at the Phoenix Hotel Tuesday afternoon. The first match of the bowling team was held last Wednesday, University of Michigan being the Alley Cats opponents.

The University bowling team is a member of the National Intercollegiate Bowling Association, an organization composed of eight leading universities and colleges. All meets will be held by telegraphic aid, the results of each team being sent to their opponents by means of night letters and the results of the meet published the following morning. The final results are sent to Yale where the national office of the organization is located.

The following men are leading contenders for positions on the Alley Cat team: Arthur Morris, Robert Embry, Robert Honaker, I. J. Miller and Robert Strauss.

Another team which the University of Kentucky will put in the field for the first time this year is the golf team. The University possesses a number of excellent golfers who are planning to organize and send a team to the Southern Tournament at Atlanta this spring. A meeting will be held Monday afternoon and the golfers will complete their plans for organizing.

"Daddy" Boles, who is an enthusiastic club wielder, is one of the promoters of the golf team, and his efforts are being supplemented by several faculty members. L. K. Miller, runner up in the Blue Grass tournament last summer is considered the Kentucky ace but in Nutting, Bretlinger and Stone are men who will push Miller to the limit.

VARSITY TRACK SQUAD STARTS WORK FOR 1924

Blue and White Speedsters Begin Preparations for Cincy Meet

Coach George Buchheit issued his first call for track men last Monday but due to the cold weather only a small squad reported. A full quota is expected by next week. The reason for the early call is to get the men in condition for the indoor meet which is to be held at Cincinnati March 1.

A most successful season is predicted by Coach Buchheit even with the loss of six out of twelve letter men. Much hope and dependence is being placed in last year's freshmen who made an admirable record last spring. Out of the thirteen numeral men, eleven will be ready for action this spring.

This year's team will miss the services of Davidson, holder of the state record in the shot put; Porter, with the state record in the two mile; Brown and Gorman both excellent distance men; Gregg, pole vaulter, and Brewer dashes, therefore it is up to last year's freshmen to fill the shoes of the departed veterans. The returning letter men are Captain Nantz, Dewhurst, Wolf, Butler, Mays, Mekon and Caldwell.

From present indications the squad will be shy on weight men, hurdlers and distance men. Some good distance men are expected from the cross country team, which was composed

TIGERS OF GEORGETOWN THROW SCARE INTO THE WILDCATS BUT LOSE

Kentucky Wins Contest 39-35—Milward and McFarland Star

IS CLOSE THROUGHOUT

Long, Scott County Forward, Scores Twenty Points in Game

Georgetown threw quite a scare into the Wildcat camp in the return game between the two field aggregations here Monday night by turning loose a long shot attack that threatened the Cat lead but fell short by two field goals. The Blue and White won the contest 39-35 and this was due largely to the accuracy of the shooting of Will Milward and Jimmie McFarland, who dropped in 14 points each. The count at the end of the first half was Kentucky 23, Georgetown 19.

With the memories of the two previous years when Tiger quintets have lost to the Cats at Georgetown and then defeated the Blue and White on the Lexington court, Coach Coleman's Orange and Black five gave the Cats the stiffest fight they have met up against this season. The ability of Shorty Long, Tiger forward, who was high point man of the game with 20 markers to his credit, to locate the basket from almost any part of the floor, coupled with the brilliant floor play of Jacoby, center, and Daniel, forward, caused considerable worry on the part of the Wildcat supporters and it was not until the final gun had shot that the game was won.

The Cats had little difficulty in working through the Tiger defense and scored most of their points by this method. Very few of the Kentucky baskets were shot from beyond the foul circle while the Georgetown five shot almost as soon as the ball was in their territory, thus missing many good opportunities to pass to open men. McFarland and Milward with fourteen points each, led the Kentucky scoring. Milward working under the basket in accordance with Buchheit's style of play, dropped in basket after basket from short range in the first half. McFarland, hardly heard from in the first period as far as scoring went, broke loose in the second half, and counted 12 points. King and Rice played excellent games at guard for the Cats but could not cope with the long range shooting of the Tigers. Riefkin and Hughes divided the work as McFarland's running mate and both played good ball, Riefkin turning in several pretty baskets by batting the ball into the basket while in mid-air.

Long was Georgetown's shining light, both in scoring and floor work. Jacoby at center did not accumulate his customary amount of pointage but turned in a first class exhibition. Daniel covered a great amount of territory throughout the game.

WESTERN QUINTET BOWS BEFORE KENTUCKY FIVE

Keith and Klopp Star and Kittenettes Win Contest 18-8

Kentucky's Kittenette five defeated the feminine basketballers of Western Normal 18-8 in the men's gym Thursday, February 7. This was the fifth victory of the Blue and White lassies in as many starts and the win put them another notch toward the state title.

Kentucky started off with an eight point lead early in the first quarter. Klopp and Helm scored by dropping long shots over Western's five man defense. Kentucky's five was in the game all the time. Good passing by Keifer and Helm and the floor work of Kerth were largely responsible for the victory. Klopp scored eight of the eighteen points by long shots. Wilson prevented the opponents scoring, and broke up passes as they neared the goal.

At no time were the Western girls in the lead. In the second quarter, with the score 8-5, the closest they ever came to the Kittenettes. At the end of the half the score was 12-5. In the second period Western shot wild and Kentucky worked through the five man defense for close shots.

Western defeated Eastern Normal the following Friday night, and Eastern has defeated Transylvania. Kentucky does not meet either of these teams, but has ascendancy over both for the State Championship by their victory over Western.

of Gorman, Hall, Hendricks, Davidson, Allen and Butler. With the absence of Davidson, there is no letter man left for the weights which offers a good opening for any one who can display some ability in this line. The return of Dewhurst gives a letter man for the hurdles but there is still another good man needed.

Any one interested in any track event especially the above mentioned should report at once as there are plenty of good opportunities and no one can tell what he can do until he has tried. Coach Buchheit is planning on this season as being the biggest in the history of track at the University and it will be quite an honor to make a letter or even be on the squad.

SCRAPS

Did you ever notice the alliteration of the letter K in the Kittenette line-ups? Kiefer, Klopp, Kerth, Kelly, star for the Kittenettes of Kentucky! The first three named form a triumvirate that tears to pieces the opposition's defense just about as fast as the Ku Klux Klan would reduce the negro population on Winslow street if it should appear in its sheets and pillows in the middle of the night.

Coach "Dutch" Burnham and his freshman tribe will run over to Winchester tomorrow night and play a return contest with the Wesleyan Yearlings. The Kittens defeated the Panther Cubs rather easily in their first game but the Blue and White youngsters will have to improve over their present form if they hope to make it two straight over the Windy City crew.

Eight victories in ten starts. Not so bad for the Cats who have lost only to Tennessee and Mississippi Aggies and have defeated strong outfits such as the Chattanooga Moccasins and the Mountaineers of West Virginia. At the present writing but one has been able to score more than 24 points in a contest against the Blue and White.

The Cats are leading the State title race with three victories in as many starts. With only one more contest on tap, the return game with Centre, the Blue and White are heavy favorites to win the Kentucky court championship. Georgetown, by virtue of its stubborn resistance to the Kentucky attack in both its contest with the Cat five, seems to be the second best quintet in the state with Centre a close third.

Peabody meets the Kittenettes Saturday night, February 16, at Lexington. Peabody has defeated the Kittenettes for four successive years, and has held the championship of the south for some time. This year's dope favors Kentucky as Peabody defeated Western Normal 17-12, and Kentucky defeated the same team 18-8.

Following the Peabody-Kentucky game the Woman's Athletic Association is giving a manless dance at Patterson Hall in honor of Peabody girls. All University girls are invited.

SHE WANTED SCALES

She was a new driver. She just missed the fire hydrant, ran over the curb and brought her electric finally to a stop in front of a sidewalk filling station.

Bring out your scales, please, she said.

Scales? queried the tank tender, puzzled.

Yes, she replied. See how many pounds of air I need in my tires.—Service.

ENGINEERING NOTES

Word has been received here that F. W. Fest, a member of the class of 1923, has been made technical assistant superintendent of the Equitable Gas Company, of Elrama Pa. This company is a distributor of gas over a wide section in Pennsylvania and through several independent plants the natural supply is supplemented by manufactured gas.

Mr. Fest was a well known and popular student on the campus and his rapid advancement is a matter of gratification to his many friends.

At a recent meeting of the New York Alumni Association, it was voted to invite a member of the sophomore class of the University of Kentucky to be guest of honor at the annual dinner of the New York Club to be held at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York Friday, April 11. The sophomore class will meet in a few days to elect a representative.
